

RISING FROM THE FLAMES

In Spring of 2013, the Charles County Fair suffered a devastating loss. A fire decimated the animal barns used during the fair and other community agricultural events.

The organization is dedicated to rebuilding bigger and better. Since Charles County Fair, Inc. is a 3(c) non-profit, and does not receive direct government support, we will have to ask the community for its support.

The Old McDonald Barn (the oldest building on the grounds) survived the fire. We will incorporate it into the new construction and felt that a more permanent floor would enhance the durability of the Barn.

We plan to use bricks for the floor, and members of the community have asked for ways to support the Fair in the re-building endeavor. Dedication bricks are available to remember family, friends, or just to support the Fair.
